William Zurborg counsels policyholders in a wide variety of complex insurance coverage related matters. He helps policyholders throughout the entire claims process, from assisting in the preparation of claims and proofs of loss, communicating with insurance companies regarding claims, and disputing coverage determinations. When claims cannot be resolved amicably, William represents policyholders throughout all stages of litigation and appeal. Prior to joining Carrington Coleman, William represented insurance companies, and he has first-hand knowledge of how insurance companies conduct claims investigations, coverage determinations, and litigation.
