

Carrington Coleman Again Earns Place Among “Best Place to Work in North Texas”

October 21, 2022

For a second consecutive year, Carrington Coleman has been selected among the “Best Places to Work in North Texas” by the Dallas Business Journal.

Carrington Coleman is one of the very few law firms to be recognized among the 30 companies in the “medium” category, a distinction reserved for those with 50-249 employees.

“This firm was launched in 1970 by attorneys who understood that you can only serve your clients properly when you feel comfortable and supported by those around you. That philosophy has helped create a unique atmosphere of camaraderie among our colleagues and clients,” said Managing Partner Monica Latin.

The annual workplace survey, conducted by Quantum Workplace, solicits anonymous feedback from employees in several key areas of job satisfaction, including trust in leadership, communication, and team dynamics.

Employee input was received from more than 300 companies across North Texas before selecting the top 100 businesses that go above and beyond in creating an enjoyable workplace and a thriving culture for their employees. Winning companies were honored at an Oct. 20 event at the Renaissance Dallas at Plano Legacy West Hotel.