

Christie Newkirk Inducted as Fellow of The College of Labor and Employment Lawyers

February 05, 2025

Carrington Coleman Partner Christie Newkirk was inducted as a Fellow in The College of Labor and Employment Lawyers, a non-profit association honoring the leading lawyers nationwide in the practice of Labor and Employment Law. Election to be a Fellow is the highest recognition by ones' colleagues of continued outstanding performance in the profession, exemplifying integrity, dedication, and merit. Fellows are recognized as distinguished members of the labor and employment community who promote achievement, advancement, and excellence in the practice by setting standards of professionalism and civility, by sharing their experience and knowledge and by acting as a resource for academia, the government, the judiciary and the community at large.

To learn more about The College of Labor and Employment Lawyers, click here: <https://thecllel.org/>