

Monica Latin Named to Lawdragon Managing Partners You Need to Know Guide

April 17, 2025

Carrington Coleman Managing Partner Monica Latin has been selected by Lawdragon as one of the top law firm leaders in the country.

The 2025 Lawdragon 100 Managing Partners You Need to Know legal guide recognizes leaders of “large and small, corporate and litigation, plaintiff and defense” law firms who are “dedicated to one of the hardest roles a lawyer can take on professionally: herding lawyers and shaping their passions and skills into a successful outcome for a client,” according to Lawdragon.

In 2020, Monica became Carrington Coleman’s first female managing partner, and fifth overall, since the firm opened in 1970. She was recognized by Lawdragon for her devotion to the growth of the firm, remarkable legal capability, and acumen as a business developer. Having practiced at the firm for more than 30 years, she has been instrumental in shaping the success and culture of the firm. Under her leadership the firm has twice been recognized by the Dallas Business Journal as a “Best Places to Work.”

In addition to her firm leadership, she has maintained her Chambers-rated litigation practice, representing clients in high-stakes litigation and appeals in state and federal courts across the country and in arbitration.
