I provide straightforward advice to my clients. They appreciate that I excel at providing unique, practical solutions to very complex issues and getting great results at reasonable rates. My clients and fellow lawyers frequently call me to come in to clean up messy and difficult cases.

Jason has a diverse commercial litigation and bankruptcy practice that provides significant experience in a wide range of matters, including commercial disputes, adversary proceedings (bankruptcy litigation), judgment collection, business divorces, and employment matters.

Jason's litigation practice is primarily Texas based. His bankruptcy practice, however, takes him all over the country. In addition to representing creditors in high-profile bankruptcies, he also prosecutes and defends creditors in bankruptcy adversary proceedings (bankruptcy litigation).

With his primary entire book of business built from grassroots relationships that only strengthen over time, Jason is an advisor who engenders great confidence and trust in his clients. They know they can count on not only his legal acumen and business intelligence, but also his sense of fairness and passion for helping them solve their problems. If their issue falls outside of Jason's areas of expertise, he'll connect them with the right lawyer in the firm while continuing to oversee their case and ensure it proceeds smoothly.

Jason enjoys the rich and constantly changing nature of his matters and devising optimal strategies to address them. He also enjoys providing advice to limit risks for his clients, and he relishes the hard work and intellectual challenges involved in tackling particularly difficult, complex, and pressure-filled matters.

Jason's peers have given him an AV® Preeminent™ rating with Martindale Hubbell for his high ethical standards and outstanding legal ability.
